This instruction implements AFD 36-8, Employee Benefits and Entitlements, by providing guidance and procedures supervisors need to schedule civilian employees (except non-US citizen employees employed outside the United States and the District of Columbia) for work and holiday observances. It tells how to establish work schedules, rest and lunch periods, make ready and clean-up time. It describes work subject to premium pay and shows how to get approval for holiday work.

(AFRC) The OPR for this supplement is HQ AFRC/DPCE (Ms. Meg Keith). This supplement implements and extends the guidance of Air Force Instruction (AFI) 36-807, 21 June 1999. The AFI is published word-for-word without editorial review. Air Force Reserve supplementary material is indicated by "(AFRC)" in boldface type. This supplement describes Air Force Reserve procedures to be used in conjunction with the basic instruction. Upon receipt of this integrated supplement discard the Air Force basic.

SUMMARY OF REVISIONS

This revision incorporates IC 99-1 and adds the definition of alternative workplace arrangement (AWA) as paragraph 2.3., (re-numbering the remaining terms and definitions in paragraph 2.), and authorizes MAJCOMs, FOAs or DRUs to establish alternative workplace arrangement (AWA) programs. MAJCOMs, FOAs or DRUs may delegate this authority to installation commanders (para 3.3.). Organization and tenant commanders establish by written order the daily hours for beginning and ending work and the basic 40-hour tour of duty, including uncommon tours of duty, alternative work schedules (AWS), hours and location(s) for alternative workplace arrangements (AWA), as well as rest and lunch periods for their respective organizations (para 3.2.). IC 99-1 assigns numbers to material in paragraphs 4.2., 4.3., and 4.4. which had previously been listed with bullets, and adds attachment 2, with information and a sample

AWA agreement for supervisors and employees. Changed or revised material is indicated by a bar (|). The entire text of IC 99-1 is at attachment 3.

(AFRC) This revision incorporates policy guidance from various memorandums on the duty status of ARTs.

1. Scope of Applicability. This instruction applies Air Force-wide, to appropriated fund civilian employees, including US Air Force Reserve (USAFR) and Air National Guard Title 5, United States Code.

2. Terms and Definitions. The following terms and definitions are used in this instruction.

2.1. Administrative Workweek. The Air Force administrative workweek begins at 0001 Sunday and ends at 2400 on the next following Saturday. The calendar day on which a shift begins is considered the day of duty for that day even though the day of duty extends into the next calendar day or into the following administrative workweek.

2.2. Alternative Work Schedules (AWS). Work schedules made up of flexible or compressed schedules.

2.3. Alternative Workplace Arrangements (AWA). Working under a flexiplace arrangement, either at home or other approved location(s), such as a telecommuting center (See attachment 2 for a sample agreement).

2.4. Basic Workweek. The days and hours of an administrative workweek which make up a full-time employee's regularly scheduled 40-hour workweek.

2.5. Compressed Schedule. Compressed schedule means for a full-time employee, an 80-hour biweekly basic work requirement which is scheduled in less than 10 workdays. In the case of a part-time employee, it is a biweekly basic work requirement of less than 80 hours which is scheduled for less than 10 workdays.

2.6. First 40-Hours. The first 40 hours of duty performed within a period of no more than six days of the administrative workweek may be established as the basic workweek when it is impractical to prescribe a regular schedule of definite hours of duty each workday.

2.7. Flexible Schedule. Flexible schedule is that portion of the work day during which the employee has the option to select and vary starting and stopping times within established limits set by installation level approving officials for AWS.

2.8. Holiday Work. Work performed on a legal holiday or the day observed as a holiday.

2.9. Observed Day. Observed day is a holiday in which employees are given time off on a day other than the date which the holiday actually falls on.

2.10. Part Time. In some circumstances it is not possible to obtain or use an employee's services for the full 40-hour workweek. Part time tours of duty may be authorized when service on a regular, repetitive basis is required at least one day during each administrative workweek, however, additional service may be required during the remainder of the administrative workweek.

2.11. Regular Tour of Duty. The regular tour of duty for Air Force employees is five 8-hour days, Monday through Friday.

2.12. Special Tour of Duty for Educational Purposes. A special tour of duty of no less than 40 hours in an administrative workweek which may be established by supervisors to permit employees to take courses at nearby educational institutions.

2.13. Standby. Certain types of work require employees to remain at their duty stations for long periods of duty, a substantial part of which is standby time. For example, the tour of duty for firefighters generally is a 72-hour workweek of three 24-hour days. The tour is scheduled so that the employee is on duty three alternate 24-hour shifts during each administrative workweek, and deviations from this tour are kept to a minimum. The basic weekly tour of duty for fire chiefs, assistant fire chiefs, fire prevention inspectors, and similar fire protection personnel is 40-hour workweek of five 8-hour days unless the duties of the position require substantial amounts of standby time.

2.14. Uncommon Tour of Duty. Any 40-hour basic workweek scheduled to include Saturday and or Sunday, for four workdays or less but not more than six days of the administrative workweek. An uncommon tour of duty may be established when necessary for efficient operations or when the cost of operations can thus be reduced without imposing undue hardship on employees.

2.14.1. (Added-AFRC) Non dual status technicians (NDST), formally known as status quo employees are normally assigned to an uncommon tour of duty to provide coverage during unit training assemblies (UTA).

3. Basic Authority:

3.1. Installation Commanders. Installation Commanders establish the hours for opening and closing the installation.

3.2. Organization and Tenant Commanders. Organization and tenant commanders establish by written order the daily hours for beginning and ending work and the basic 40-hour tour of duty including uncommon tours of duty, alternative work schedules (AWS), hours and location(s) for alternative workplace arrangements (AWA), as well as rest and lunch periods for their respective organizations. Organization and tenant commanders or their designated representative should set work schedules, assign overtime and holiday work to balance mission requirements, efficiency and economy of operations, and employee needs. These determinations are subject to approval by the installation commander or his or her designated representative who has authority for operation of base facilities. NOTE: organization/tenant commanders set the hours and locations for AWS and AWA; MAJCOMs/FOAs/DRUs approve AWS and AWA programs, unless they delegate this authority to installation commanders as provided in 3.3.

3.2.1. Organization and tenant commanders may also establish regularly scheduled tours of duty of more than 40 hours within the administrative workweek when such action is essential to mission accomplishment, and when other administrative action such as changes in authorized staffing or detail of personnel is neither feasible or desirable. Except under extraordinary circumstances, a tour of duty which includes regular overtime should not extend beyond 48 hours in an administrative workweek. Organization and tenant commanders may extend the regularly scheduled administrative workweek to any length exceeding 40 hours when emergency conditions exist and it is necessary for mission accomplishment. The extension of the tour of duty will be subject to the requirements of applicable laws and regulations.

3.3. Major Commands, Field Operating Activities and Direct Reporting Units. Major Commands (MAJCOM), field operating activities (FOA) and Direct Reporting Units (DRU) are authorized to approve AWS and AWA programs. MAJCOMs, FOAs or DRUs may delegate this authority to installation commanders

3.4. Supervisors. Supervisors will generally schedule employee's work on the same hours each day, and breaks in excess of one hour during a day will not be permitted. Supervisors must give a minimum of one week's notice to employees when they are to be assigned to a different tour of duty or to different hours of duty except as provided under AWS or for educational purposes.

3.4.1. Commanders may grant an exception to this requirement when circumstances preclude compliance, for example, when a change in shifts by a contractor requires immediate corresponding change in the tour of inspectors, or when normal operations are interrupted by events beyond the control of management, such as, fire, flood, breakdown of equipment. Commanders assure that changes in established work schedules are kept to a minimum and made only when necessary to resolve operational problems.

4. Tours of Duty:

4.1. Tours of Duty for Educational Purposes. Supervisors may establish special tours of duty for educational purposes.

4.1.1. Employees who are on special tours of duty for educational purposes cannot be paid premium pay solely because the rescheduling of his or her tour of duty causes him or her to work on a day, or during the hours of a day, when premium pay would otherwise be required.

4.1.2. Supervisors are not prohibited from assigning an employee to a regularly scheduled shift requiring premium pay, for example, night pay, since no additional costs are incurred. Supervisors must notify the civilian payroll office when an employee is assigned to or changed from a special tour of duty to prevent inadvertent payment of premium pay. Supervisors must maintain a record of these tours of duty for the purpose of responding to Office of Personnel Management (OPM) inquiries.

4.2. Posting Work Schedules. Supervisors must post copies of work schedules for all tours of duty, except regular Monday through Friday tours, which include the names of assigned employees in the work area. Supervisors must maintain a copy of employee's work schedules in their operating office. Supervisors:

4.2.1. Post a written statement of actual work requirements for standby tours of duty.

4.2.2. Give employees with regularly scheduled 60 or 72 hour standby tours of duty 30 calendar days notice of any reduction in the percentage of premium pay resulting from a change in work requirements.

4.2.3. Give employees with regularly scheduled 40-hour tours of duty plus scheduled standby time as much notice as possible when changing their duty schedule.

4.2.4. Review work requirements periodically for changes which may affect the payment of premium compensation and revise work schedules where necessary.

4.2.5. (Added-AFRC) The requirement that a 1 week's notice be given before a change in tour of duty is waived under the circumstances listed below. Notify employees of such changes as far in advance as possible. In any situation, notify the employee before reporting for duty on the day of the proposed change. Use of this authority is limited to that necessary for essential operations as determined by appropriate authority.

4.2.5.1. (Added-AFRC) For aircrew personnel on missions of more than 1 day's duration, to include the day of departure from home station.

4.2.5.2. (Added-AFRC) For aircrew members and ground support personnel to meet special or other essential unscheduled flying missions.

4.2.5.3. (Added-AFRC) For aircrew members and specialized and ground support personnel performing weather reconnaissance or rescue missions.

4.3. Scheduling Rest Periods. Supervisors may schedule short rest periods, not exceeding 15 minutes during each four hours of continuous work, when the supervisor believes the rest periods will be of benefit to the service. (NOTE: Supervisors must adhere to applicable labor management agreements if they contain provisions for the granting of rest periods.)

4.3.1. Criteria to be followed by supervisors in determining the justification for granting rest periods are:

4.3.1.1. Protection of employee's health by relieving them from hazardous work or very physical work.

4.3.1.2. Reduce the accident rate by removing the fatigue potential.

4.3.1.3. Relieve those who work in confined spaces.

4.3.1.4. Increasing or maintaining a high quality or quantity production.

4.4. Scheduling Lunch Periods. When supervisors schedule lunch (or other meal) periods, during which the employee is entirely free of the duties of his or her position, the period is not considered as duty time for which compensation is paid.

4.4.1. Supervisors will generally schedule time for lunch apart from the hours of duty when one or two shifts are in operation.

4.4.2. When supervisors schedule more than one 8-hour shift in a 24-hour period and an overlapping of shifts to permit time off for lunch is not possible, supervisors may authorize an on-the-job lunch period of 20 minutes or less. On-the-job lunch periods require that:

4.4.2.1. Employees spend their on-the-job lunch at or near their work stations. Under these conditions, the time covered by the 20 minute on-the-job lunch period is compensable.

4.4.2.2. Employees given duty free lunch periods during periods of overtime work will not receive compensation for that time.

4.4.3. (Added) When lunch is consumed during a long distance flight, an on-the-job lunch not to exceed 20 minutes may be authorized if time to take a meal break on the ground is not possible.

4.4.3.1. (Added) The requirement to establish and take a lunch period may not be waived solely on the basis of an aircrew member flying an additional flying training period (AFTP) or short duration mission or performing an additional ground training period (AGTP) nor may it be waived for other ground personnel supporting such missions.

4.5. Scheduling Make Ready and Clean-Up Time. Incidental duties that are directly connected with the performance of a job, such as obtaining and replacing working tools or materials, undergoing inspections, and similar tasks are considered part of the job requirements within the employee's established tour of duty. Supervisors must arrange work shifts so that time required for incidental duties will be part of the 8-hour day.

4.5.1. When incidental duties cannot be part of the regularly scheduled workday, the extra time for which overtime may be paid to an employee, will not exceed 30 minutes a day.

4.6. (Added) Long Distance Flights. Tours of duty and attendance reporting for aircrew members on long distance flights are as follows:

4.6.1. (AFRC) A long distance flight is defined as a situation where an aircrew member departs his or her home station, arrives at another duty station and remains overnight at the remote duty station.

4.6.2. (Added-AFRC) The tour of duty and daily hours of work for ART aircrew members engaged in long distance flights is governed by and charged to the directed reporting for duty time each day. The ART aircrew members' work begins at the directed reporting time for preflight/pre-planning duties based on the proposed takeoff time and ends upon completion of postflight duties and excusal from duty.

4.6.3. (Added-AFRC) To avoid confusion in time and attendance reporting, record duty dates and times on a 24-hour basis in the hours of the home station time zone. Ignore date changes that occur by crossing the International Date Line.

4.6.4. (Added-AFRC) Aircrew members must comply with flight duty periods and crew rest periods as required. To the maximum extent possible, civilian aircrew duty days should be scheduled/adjusted to coincide with the flying schedule. When situations arise and aircrews are required to remain in crew rest past their scheduled workday reporting time or enter crew rest during the civilian workday, the following options apply:

4.6.4.1. (Added-AFRC) If the flight/flight duty for which the employee is in a crew rest status will be performed in civilian status, then no leave is to be charged.

4.6.4.2. (Added-AFRC) If the flight/flight duty for which the employee is in a crew rest status will be performed in military status, then the employee will either take annual leave, LWOP, accrued compensatory time off, or accrued credit hours, or adjust his/her duty day to accommodate the crew rest requirement.

4.6.5. (Added-AFRC) When temporary duty (TDY) on a scheduled workday, and through no fault of the employee, an employee starts work but less than 8 hours of work are performed, the employee is credited with 8 hours total duty. (EXAMPLE: Employee reports as directed at 0600, takes off at 0800, lands at 1200, performs post flight duties, and is excused at 1300; that individual is credited with 7 hours of work and 1 hour of constructive credit.) Regardless of the reason and irrespective of whether within the employee's control, if employees do not report for work they are placed in the appropriate leave category or have their workweek rescheduled. Constructive credit hours may not be granted if there is no work to be performed at the TDY location and it is known prior to the start of the employee's civilian workday. In addition, constructive credit hours may not be granted at home station.

4.6.6. (Added-AFRC) AFRC flying units maintain time and attendance records on the AFRC Form 4, Air Reserve Technician (Aircrew) Work Hours Report (CIV, AD, IAD). All aircrew members complete this form during TDYs involving flying duties where conversions to and from military status occur. The aircraft commander reviews and certifies this form and turns in to the individual's timekeeper upon completion of the mission.

4.7. (Added-AFRC) Duty Status for Air Reserve Technicians.

4.7.1. (Added-AFRC) ARTs may perform duty either at home station or away from home station in either military or civilian status except as stated below:

4.7.1.1. (Added-AFRC) Attendance at formal schools: IAW AFMAN 36-8001.

4.7.1.2. (AFRC) Exercises: Active duty; however, unit commanders may authorize civilian status for exercises at home station that do not involve other Air Force or AFRC units or other military components.

4.7.1.3. (Added-AFRC) Airborne support or directed mission: Active duty outside CONUS unless the unit commander determines civilian status is authorized.

4.7.1.4. (Added-AFRC) Flights into hostile area flights or imminent danger zones: Active duty.

4.7.1.5. (Added-AFRC) Military Promotion Boards: Active duty.

4.7.2. (Added-AFRC) Travel in civilian status solely to perform military duty is forbidden and vice versa. However, travel in civilian status to perform civilian duty in conjunction with IDT or active duty is acceptable.

4.7.3. (Added-AFRC) Changes in Duty Status. Except as provided below, the duty status in which ARTs depart home station will continue until they return. All periods of military duty must be scheduled in advance, meet normal reserve participation requirements, and be annotated on official orders. Changes in duty status must be approved by the supervisor.

4.7.3.1. (Added-AFRC) If one or more inactive duty for training (IDT) periods are scheduled while away from home station the employee will convert to IDT and back at times specified on the scheduling documents. If periods of civilian duty are scheduled in conjunction with IDT flight training; ensure that all preflight and postflight duties are performed in IDT status. An IDT period may be completed on the same day that civilian duty is performed.

4.7.3.2. (Added-AFRC) If one or more active duty periods are scheduled while away from home station, all conversions from civilian to active duty or from active duty to civilian status will occur at 0001 hours. In flight duty status conversions to or from active duty status are permitted at 0001 hours of the home station time zone.

4.7.3.3. (Added-AFRC) TDY orders are completed according to current guidance. In addition, a remark must be included to annotate each conversion to active duty or civilian status at 0001 hours IAW with the applicable order number. For example, Member will convert to active duty status at 0001 on 12 September IAW RO D-245. A remark must also be included to indicate when IDT is authorized in conjunction with civilian TDY which identifies the dates and times of conversion. For example, "Member will convert to IDT status on 12 September at 0800, revert to civilian status at 1700 on 12 September, convert to IDT status at 0800 on 13 September, and convert to civilian status at 1700 on 13 September."

4.7.4. (Added-AFRC) Exceptions to the above policies will be requested through command channels to AFRC/CV/CVA for consideration.

4.7.5. (Added-AFRC) Duty Status Overseas. Before sending ARTs overseas in civilian status, Commanders will ensure ARTs are briefed on legal ramifications, requirements, and proper immigration procedures for all countries that might be transited. ARTs must be in active duty status whenever performing in unit deployments or in direct support of contingencies outside the United States, its territories and possessions. The above restriction does not prevent ARTs from participating in civilian TDY status on routine support missions outside of CONUS, unless these missions are into hostile fire areas. 403 AW Weather Squadron members are also not restricted from civilian TDY outside the CONUS when their purpose for deployment is to support the weather mission. ARTs required to attend conferences, to conduct site visits, or to recover routine support aircraft with maintenance problems (not in hostile fire area) are not restricted by this policy.

4.7.6. (Added-AFRC) Duty Status in Hostile Fire/Imminent Danger Zones. ARTs will convert to active duty status at 0001 on the calendar day of departure prior to entering hostile fire/imminent danger areas and remain in active duty status until 2400.

4.7.7. (Added-AFRC) Duty Status While Engaged in Training. The duty status of ARTs while engaged in training is dependent upon the relationship of the training to the civilian position. If the training is solely related to the military requirements of the employee's reserve assignment and is not considered to be part of the civilian duties, the employee must be in an appropriate leave status to attend that training during the civilian workday. Small arms training and chemical defense training (more commonly known as chemical warfare training) are two training situations that best represent this scenario.

5. Holiday Observances:

5.1. Holiday Duty. Supervisors must not require employees to work on holidays or days designated as observed days, unless the work is justified by unusual circumstances or if the maintenance of usual essential services is involved.

5.1.1. Supervisors will order holiday work when required and have it approved in writing by an official designated to authorize holiday work. Supervisors must obtain this approval before work is performed, except in cases of an emergency, because it constitutes authority for expenditure of funds and certification that funds are available to pay the employee. Supervisors ordering work on a holiday or employees required to remain on duty during an emergency will not require advance approval for the work. Supervisors must record the reasons for the holiday and the hours worked by the employees no later than the following workday. This requirement does not apply to tours of duty regularly scheduled on a holiday or observed day for employees engaged in essential services such as firefighters, police, hospital employees, or other service personnel. The supervisor will record holiday work on an AF Form 428, Request for Overtime, Holiday Premium Pay, and Compensatory Time.

5.2. Observed Day. When a holiday falls on a regularly scheduled workday, observe that day as the holiday. If a holiday falls on Sunday and the employee has a regularly scheduled 40-hour basic workweek of Monday through Friday, the employee will observe the following Monday as the holiday. When the holiday falls on Saturday, the employee will observe the holiday on the proceeding Friday.

5.2.1. When a holiday falls on a Sunday and that Sunday is a nonworkday for employees with a regularly scheduled 40-hour basic workweek of other than Monday through Friday, observe the next regularly scheduled workday as the holiday.

5.2.1.1. When a holiday falls on the nonworkday designated as the day in-lieu-of Sunday, observe the next regularly scheduled workday as a holiday. When a holiday or a designated observed day falls on an employee's nonworkday (Monday through Saturday), the workday immediately preceding the day is observed as the holiday.

5.2.2. Deleted

5.3. Deleted

5.4. When full-time employees on a compressed work schedule are relieved or prevented from working on a day designated as a holiday, they are entitled to basic pay for the number of hours of the compressed work schedule on that day.

5.5. Holiday observances for employees who work a flexible schedule are the same as those for full-time employees with a regularly scheduled 40-hour basic workweek.

5.6. When a holiday falls on a part-time employee's regularly scheduled workday, the employee is entitled to be excused with pay for the number of hours he or she is scheduled to work on the actual day of the holiday.

5.6.1. If full-time employees observe an "in-lieu-of" day instead of the actual holiday and that "in-lieu-of" day falls within a part-time employee's work schedule, the part-time employee will not get that day off with pay.

5.6.2. When a holiday is observed by full-time employees on a day within the part-time employee's regularly scheduled workweek and the part-time employee is prevented from working that day, the employee is entitled to be excused with pay for the number of hours he or she is scheduled to work on that day.

5.6.3. When a holiday falls on a part-time employee's nonworkday and is observed by full-time employees that day, the employee is not entitled to the holiday.

5.6.4. When a part-time employee is on a flexible schedule and is relieved or prevented from working on a day designated as a holiday by a Federal statute or Executive Order (E.O.), the employee is entitled to receive basic pay for the number of hours the employee would have worked on that holiday up to eight hours.

5.6.5. When a holiday falls on a nonworkday, the employee is not entitled to an "in-lieu of" day for that holiday.

5.6.6. When a part-time employee is on a compressed work schedule and is relieved or prevented from working on a day within the employee's scheduled tour of duty that is designated as a holiday by Federal statute or E.O., the employee is entitled to basic pay for the number of hours of the compressed work schedule on that day.

5.6.7. When a part-time employee is on a compressed work schedule and a holiday falls on a non-workday, the employee is not entitled to an "in-lieu-of" day for that holiday.

5.7. Duration of Holiday. The full 24-hours of a calendar day are normally considered as the duration of a holiday. However, when an employee's regular workday begins on a holiday and extends into the next calendar day, the entire shift is considered as a holiday to determine the employee's entitlement to holiday premium pay or time off for observance of the holiday. If an employee's regularly scheduled tour of duty includes two shifts beginning on a holiday, the first shift is considered as a holiday to determine holiday benefits.

6. (Added-AFRC) Form Prescribed. This supplement prescribes AFRC Form 4, Air Reserve Technician (Aircrew) Work Hours Record (CIV, AD, IAD).

ALTERNATIVE WORKPLACE ARRANGEMENTS (AWA)

A2.1. REASONS FOR AWA. Employers offer alternative workplace arrangements for many reasons. Such arrangements may:

- A2.1.1. Improve the quality of work life and job performance and increases productivity, e.g., reduce office overcrowding and provide a distraction-free environment for reading, analyzing and writing;
- A2.1.2. Improve morale and reduces stress by giving employees more options to balance work and family demands;
- A2.1.3. Increase customer access to needed services;
- A2.1.4. Provide services when the regular office is closed;
- A2.1.5. Extend employment opportunities to people with disabilities, including employees who have partially recovered from work-related injuries who can do the job from an off-site location;
- A2.1.6. Accommodate employees who have temporary or continuing health problems or who might otherwise have to retire on disability;
- A2.1.7. Potentially enhance recruitment and promote diversity by expanding the geographic recruitment pool; and
- A2.1.8. Decrease traffic and parking congestion, energy consumption and air pollution.

A2.2. Organizations planning to use AWA should address issues such as the following: work assignment/performance requirements, time and attendance, work schedule and tour of duty, duty station, leave, equipment/supplies, labor relations issues, and other related work arrangement requirements.

A2.3. Sample Agreement Between Organization, Supervisor, And Employee Approved For An Alternative Workplace Arrangement On A Continuing Basis:

The supervisor and employee should each keep a copy of the agreement for reference.

Organization _____ Employee _____

Voluntary Participation. (Name) _____, the employee, voluntarily agrees to work at the approved alternative workplace indicated below and to follow all applicable work-related policies and procedures. The employee recognizes that the flexiplace arrangement is not an employee benefit or entitlement, but an additional method the organization may approve to accomplish work.

Trial Period. The employee and organization agree to try out the arrangement for at least (specify number) months unless unforeseeable difficulties require earlier cancellation.

Salary and Benefits. Unless there is a change in the actual number of hours worked, a flexiplace arrangement in itself is not a basis for changing the employee's salary or benefits.

Duty Station and Alternative Workplace. The organization and employee agree that the employee's official duty station is (indicate duty station for regular office) and that the employee's approved alternative work place is: (specify street and number, City and State). NOTE: All pay, leave and travel entitlements are based on the official duty station.

Official Duties. Unless otherwise instructed, employee agrees to perform official duties only at the regular or approved alternative workplace. Employee agrees not to conduct personal business while in official duty status at the alternative workplace, e.g., caring for dependents or making home repairs.

Work Schedule and Tour of Duty. The organization and employee agree the employee's official tour of duty will be: (specify days, hours and location, i.e., the regular office or the alternative workplace).

Time and Attendance. The organization agrees to ensure that the employee's timekeeper has a copy of the employee's work schedule. The supervisor agrees to certify biweekly the time and attendance for hours worked at the regular office and the alternative workplace. IC 99-1 assigns numbers to material in paragraphs 4.2, 4.3, and 4.4 which had previously been listed with bullets, and adds Atch 2, with information and a sample AWA agreement for supervisors and employees. Changed or revised material is indicated by a bar (|). The entire text of IC 99-1 is at Attachment 3.
